

Good evening this message is from Brook Castillo, principal of Mcllvaine.

Thank you for another great week of remote learning! I hope as we move into week three you find that your child is starting to hit a groove with remote learning and ease into a new routine. I have fielded several calls about attendance over the past week. The district has posted the remote learning attendance policy on its website and it can also be found on Mcllvaine's website. Please do not hesitate to reach out and contact the office with questions regarding attendance.

We will continue our color day celebrations this week! Monday is white day, Tuesday is pink day, Wednesday is gray day, and Thursday is rainbow day! Wear as many colors as you can!

Please don't forget that Mcllvaine will hold its parent information night via Zoom on Tuesday, September 22 @ 6pm. Please look for a zoom link and more information from your child's teacher.

Thank you and have a great evening!
